DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:

On page 9, line 12: typographical error, "darks colors" should read "dark colors".

On page 9, line 13: typographical error, "be much too contrast" should read "have much to contrast".

On page 19, line 2: typographical error, "profile is requires" should read "profile is required".

Appropriate correction is required.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they include the following reference sign(s) not mentioned in the description: 208 and 252. A proposed drawing correction, corrected drawings, or amendment to the specification to add the reference sign(s) in the description, are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The term "source rendering intent" relies upon the commonly accepted interpretation of rendering intent as it relates to the intended mapping type used to render an output. The use of "rendering intent" relating to a source or input therefore is obscure and lacks sufficient meaning to allow for proper understanding of the specification and the claims.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The term "source rendering intent" as used in independent claims 1, 8, 15, 22 and 23 relies upon the commonly accepted interpretation of rendering intent as it relates to the intended mapping type used to render an output. The use of "rendering intent" relating to a source or input therefore is obscure and lacks sufficient meaning to allow for proper understanding of the claims.

Additional Notes

The prior art made of record and not yet relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
